The Green List

Products that don't need a special Pesach hechsher

In the interest of assisting the community with their Pesach requirements, the BD Kosher Department has done extensive research on many products and we are so pleased to be able to provide this list to the community. These products may be used on Pesach with a regular BD logo unless stated otherwise and DO NOT require a special Pesach logo. This list is only for Pesach 5781/2021 and will be subject to review annually.

The following items must be new and unopened:

Fresh and Long-life Milk and Cream

This should preferably be bought before Pesach, however some are meticulous to use only Chalav Yisrael milk for Pesach as it is under full-time supervision. Lactose-free milk requires a Pesach hechsher.

Butter

Butter from Clover, MooiRiver and Springbok, both salted and unsalted, with a regular BD logo or the KLBD kosher logo.

Butter from Genuine Foods, with a regular BD logo.

Oils

Extra virgin olive oil, with or without a BD logo.

Avocado oil, unflavoured with a regular BD logo.

Eggs

Eggs, with or without BD logo.

Honey

Raw unprocessed honey, with or without a BD logo.

Processed honey poses a risk as some companies adulterate honey with corn syrup. Therefore, with regard to any packed or processed honey, even honey with the words "pure honey" on the label, require a Pesach hechsher.

Salt, Bicarbonate of Soda & Cream of Tartar

All iodated and non-iodised salt, like Cerebos salt, with a regular BD logo. However, iodised salt would need a reliable Pesach hechsher as ascorbic acid may be used in the process which is either kitniyot or chametz origin.

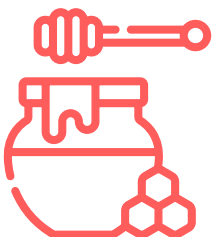

Plain Himalayan salt, that contains no additives.

Bicarbonate of soda, must state "B.P." on the packaging, as this confirms that no additives have been added.

Cream of tartar, must state "B.P." on the packaging, as this confirms that no additives have been added.

Spices

Whole spices, such as bay leaves, cinnamon sticks, whole cloves and peppercorns.

Quinoa and chia seed

Quinoa and chia seed, with or without BD logo. Due to the fact that quinoa and chia seeds are often grown in close proximity to chametz, these products need to be carefully checked for other grains before Pesach.

Waters & Ice

All unflavoured still water, however sparkling water requires a reliable Pesach hechsher as it may be carbonated using CO₂ from a brewing (grain) source which would constitute as chametz.

Aquazania, Aquartz, Nestlé, VODE and Bené unflavoured sparkling water is acceptable for Pesach with or without BD logo. SodaStream and BIBO fizz gas cylinders are acceptable to use for Pesach without a BD logo.

Ice purchased from a reputable supplier is acceptable to use for Pesach without a BD logo.

Coffee & Teas

Unflavoured coffee beans and ground coffee that is dry-roasted, as long as they are not decaffeinated with or without a BD logo, however instant coffee, freeze-dried coffee, coffee pods and capsules require a reliable Pesach hechsher.

Jacobs coffee, original and decaf, without a BD logo, ONLY when made in Germany.

All unflavoured teas, such as Five Roses, Joko, rooibos, green tea, chamomile and herbal teas. Fruit and flavoured teas require a reliable Pesach hechsher.

Meat & Fish

Raw meat, whole pieces only. This should be rinsed thoroughly before Pesach. Boerewors, cold meat and mince require a Pesach hechsher.

Raw fish. This should be rinsed before Pesach.

I&J and Sea Harvest, plain frozen, whole and filleted hake only, with or without a BD logo.

Woolworths frozen filleted hake, with a regular BD logo.

Fruit, Vegetables & Nuts

All fresh fruit and vegetables are fine to eat during Pesach with or without BD logo as long as they are not kitniyot or known to be infested. They should preferably be thoroughly washed first prior to use. Some also have the custom to peel the skin from all fruits and vegetables.

Pre-cut fresh vegetables and fruit are fine to use, including sharp items when purchased from any reputable supplier such as Pick n Pay, Woolworths and Checkers, and should preferably be rinsed before use. However, it is ideal to purchase from a supplier that has a Pesach hechsher as it has been supervised with a full-time supervisor.

Dried fruit requires a reliable Pesach hechsher. ONLY the Safari/SAD dried fruits, apple rings, prunes, peaches, pears, apricots – not Turkish - and raisins are kosher for Passover without a Passover logo.

McCain frozen vegetables, with the regular Beth Din certification are fine to use as long as they do not contain kitniyot in the ingredients, such as peas, corn or beans –once purchased the contents should be checked for kitniyot. Any potato products, such as wedges and chips, would require a reliable Pesach hechsher.

Raw unprocessed nuts, with or without a BD logo.

Kitchen Consumables

Foil products, with or without a BD logo.

Wax paper, with or without a BD logo.

Baking paper, available locally, manufactured by Sylko, Glad, PnP and Twinsaver are fine to use with or without a BD logo, however imported baking paper, (with the exception of Glad and PnP baking paper), requires a reliable Pesach hechsher.

Paper plates and cups, and all other paper products, with or without a BD logo.

Dishwashing Liquid

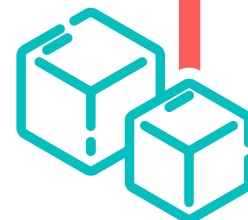

Dishwashing Liquid with or without a BD logo.

Dental Hygiene

Toothpaste, with or without a BD logo.

Mouthwash, with or without a BD logo. For those who are machmir, the Listerine range is fine to use.

Dental floss (unflavoured), with or without a BD logo.
